SIBFORD

AND

SOSA ANNUAL REPORT

'Ye menne of Sheepford wendath whithersoever they wilen'

GLADYS M. BURGESS, B.A.
President, S.O.S.A., 1962

Editorial

There are probably a great many Old Scholars who will not know until receiving this magazine that our President, John Coxon, has passed away, and all of them, I feel sure, will want to express their deepest sympathy to his family at this time. His presence and advice will be greatly missed by the School and Old Scholars alike.

It is also with regret that we hear that Lionel Geering and Roger Clark have passed away; both have done much for the School and Old Scholars.

Scanning the O.S. magazines of the last twenty years it is surprising to find that of three well known people like John Coxon, Lionel Geering and our new President, Gladys Burgess, only the following excerpts can be found. The tributes to John Coxon can be found on page 3: of Lionel Geering it was said,

"Although in unaccustomed costume, the members of this Sibford Choir were quickly recognised, with the exception of one "elderly lady" standing slightly aloof from the others, and who appeared to be in bodily discomfort, midway between waist and neck. The imperceptible juggling of this 'lady' to bring things into correct juxtaposition attracted attention, and when it was realised that feminine attire cloaked the figure of Lionel Geering, despite valiant struggles to repress mirth, laughter broke out, and for several minutes threatened to drown the singing."

Of Gladys Burgess equally little is said except:—

" — we wended our way down to the Old School to sample the excellent entertainment provided by the School, and found that, under the magic hand of Miss Burgess, the dramatic standard of their excerpt from Saint Joan by the Fifth form was as high as ever."

"Christmas, 1931, and Miss Burgess began her reading of Dickens' Christmas Carol, on the last Sunday of term, a custom continued for over twenty-five years," and one which is surely remembered by every Old Scholar.

We must take this opportunity of thanking Hugh and Daphne Maw for their help and friendship during the past six years, we are sorry to hear they are leaving Sibford and wish them every success in the future, and hope we shall see them all at Old Scholars' Reunions.

In their place we must welcome Mr. and Mrs. Fielding who will be present at our Whitsun Reunion, when we hope you will all make them feel "at home" with Old Scholars.

John Coxon

Our President, John Neville Coxon, died on 19th November, 1961, following a long illness. It is uniquely sad that we have lost both a President in office and one who was so vital a personality in our circle. But we must be glad that he was spared to attend and address Reunion in August, and we in Birmingham also, that late in September he fought his weakness to attend an O.S. party.

The 1960 magazine carried, as President, his history and, without being repetitive, it can truly be said that John was surely the greatest fount of O.S. knowledge and information which, allied with charm, tact, administrative ability and breadth of mind, gave him a place apart in our hearts.

Born on 3rd April, 1919, he was at School from 1929 to 1935 and it would seem that Jessie Johnstone sensed his qualities for she especially nurtured him. Eventually becoming Head Boy John was to have the satisfaction of seeing the eldest of his three children, Christine, achieve parallel eminence in his Presidential year.

During his war-time occupation (as a C.O.) he married Irene Wagstaff. It was in 1946 that his real business life began in the Market Research Dept. of Kalamazoo Ltd., then a qualified accountant with this enterprising firm he played a part in their expansion through the years, until at the moment of illness he was supervisor of specialised sales training.

There comes to mind perhaps a most fitting thought on his character, for in many years acquaintance he inspired a strong feeling of trust, and one does not remember hearing a criticism or dislike of this true Friend. His sagacity and wisdom will be sorely missed in many spheres. He embodied the best and ideal spirit we call Sibfordian.

The seal of this was finally set when John's ashes were scattered over the Meeting House grounds . . . near to Roland Herbert.

TRIBUTES FROM PAST MAGAZINES

"At the School there were the usual groups upon the prom, and in the kitchen were the noble Secretary and the equally noble Treasurer (Jeanne and John) planning those mundane but necessary things that make the wheels go smoothly round."

"No one can complain that the new Secretary, John Coxon, is not thoroughly imbued with Sibford. His first contact was way back when older brother Norman was at School. He (John) can "just remember" being lifted down off the prom.

Sibford made a good impression because when given the choice of school later on, he chose Sibford "without hesitation," and was there from Easter, 1929, to July, 1935.

"I soon gained the reputation of being the noisiest boy in the School," he says. In spite of this he finished up as Head Boy.

"John Coxon was hard at work all the time and was not dissuaded even when the clapper from the high-hung bell fell on his head. A kind-hearted boy: luckily he is also hard headed."

"A half-pound piece of iron with a point on it is not a good thing to have fall on your head from a height of twenty feet, and the pain must have been intense. You stuck it nobly, John . . . you will be known to many people in the future as 'Clapper' Coxon."

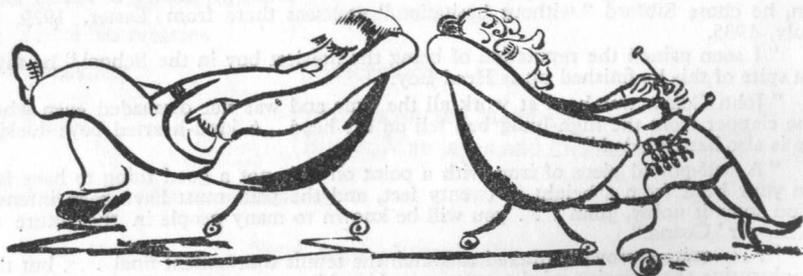

". . . quite a crowd gathered to watch the tennis tournament final . . . but the unobtrusive shot placing of the evergreen Alec Norman, ably partnered by John Coxon, perhaps received less than justice in terms of scores.

Family Reunion

Even without the twelve of us it would have been a very "family" gathering. Not too large to be intimate, but well-attended (I made it about 150 for Sunday lunch and a good many more on Monday): lots of children, including a few present scholars consenting to accompany their O.S. Parents back to School and apparently enjoying it! Vivacious, not to say hilarious, groups of cronies at meal-tables and on the prom. and something for all ages, from snoozes in the Senior Girls' Common Room to jive, or something like it, in the Junior one.

Mercifully, the weather was just good enough. On the way down from London this column enjoyed two hours of one of the best sunsets it has experienced since it knelt on its bed in Morland dormitory and watched one over Broadway Tower. But it looked kinda watery. Sure enough it rained on Saturday morning and the outlook for cricket and tennis seemed bleak indeed. This did not keep people from touring the buildings with the Headmaster to view the improvements, especially the pottery room, where one Old Scholar was noticed seeking his vital spark, or finding their way to Penn for welcome cups of hot coffee and tea, a service of which was manfully continued by a group of selfless women throughout the weekend.

The afternoon, however, was fine, and cricket took place between The Committee and The Rest. This column's sources (usually reliable) say that the Committee was all out for 80 and The Rest declared at 84; but after all, Committee was bereft of its women members, and anyway, in the absence of the School it did nearly all the work involved in providing our holiday. Numbers at supper had gone up to 102 from seventy-five at breakfast. (The food, by the way, was first class throughout). After this meal we had an excellent, practical address, based on a good deal of research, from the President, which you can read elsewhere, followed by a show of transparencies covering a good deal of recent history (and some geography). After that, the Barbecue held at Stewart's Quarries, which this column missed, feeling old and tired, but which its eldest nephew described as fine, with strings of red lights to guide motorists to the spot from afar, which turned out to be rear lights of the cars that had arrived earlier. Having left the security of the car, arrivals were approached by a torch, behind which one expected hooded figures asking for a secret password before being conducted to a Ku-Klux Klan ritual. The would-be Barbecuer was then expected to pass an ankle testing passage down precipitous paths and hollows, before coming at last upon the inferno with smoke and fumes from the sacrifice ascending to the unnamed gods. Closer examination, however, revealed that the hooded figures with torches were Pat Flinn and Arthur Harrison and the burnt offering turned out to be soup, sausages and rolls, which were very tasty. The programme included a good view of the U.S. Sputnik, community singing, backed by various solo instruments and not more than two transistor radios.

Snoozes in the Senior Girls' Common Room

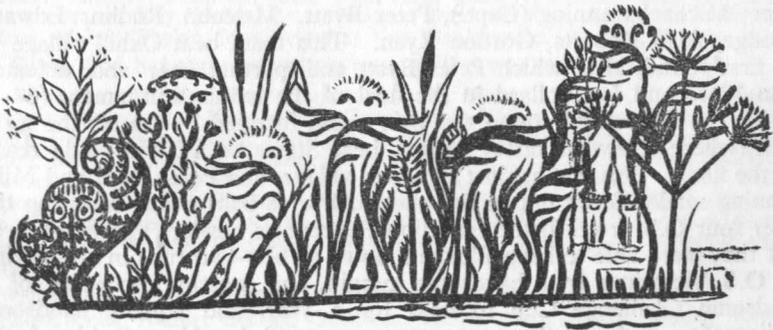

FAMILY REUNION

Sunday bade fair to be wet, but after Choral (starting with "Through the Night of Doubt and Sorrow") it gradually cleared for the walk to Meeting. There was table tennis at the pavilion and ditto and coffee at Penn. At lunch we were told that the Picnic was on, and in due course most people arrived awheel or afoot at the right end of Whichford Woods. O.S. who remember them in May and June with bluebells will be interested to learn that in August they are Quite Different, resembling a Rain Forest as depicted by Henri Rousseau, through which the advance party hacked and splashed its way in single file for a few hundred yards before retreating to open ground to build the fire. Wood was gathered remarkably quickly, and the fire burned up well without paraffin or other forms of cheating. The mugs had been brought, and tea was served to a large company as the storm clouds gathered overhead and the rain came down. This column's older relations arrived in time to take some of its younger relations back to School and it infers that the President arrived for his wife, as she appeared at supper. This column is able to divulge FOR THE FIRST TIME that last time it met them in Whichford Woods they were known as "Kissable" and "Honeybunch" respectively. Thirty years later, they look much the same . . .

After supper there was a fascinating and wide-ranging report from the Headmaster on the School Year, followed by a business meeting so business-like that it was over soon after midnight—but these matters will also be reported elsewhere. A fairly unreliable source suggests that there were also rockets at You-know-where. Followed bed.

Monday was an even better day. We spent most of the morning confined in the swimming bath watching a demonstration of electronic acoustics, followed by a swimming gala. This was a sort of competition between assorted Carlton Smith's and The Rest, which nobody in particular won, but the participants at least enjoyed and consisted of free style and relay races, races with balloons blown up by wind, races with racers blown up with fizzy lemonade, races with a lighted candle and pillow fights on the greasy pole. There were three pairs of antagonists, the first two with the positive result of the inevitable splash, but the third was of sterner stuff, the two fighters glaring at each other quivering like dogs before they locked in combat, first with pillows, which were lost, then locked vertically, nothing barred and, finally, still "all in" nothing barred, locked in combat in the horizontal position, until the stewards in desperation removed the pole from its stands and ducked the pair of them, still locked together, complete with pole. Louis Wright organised this with verve and elan.

In the afternoon there was a Scavenger Hunt, mainly for younger O.S., and won by two of them (a Coxon and a Brown), what time six-aside cricket matches were going ahead on the field. These were between neighbouring villages, but the O.S. team also entered—and won! Batting order: Michael Canning (Capt.), Peter Byatt, Malcolm Rudlin, Edward Goudge, Alan Roberts, Gordon Ryan. This team beat Oxhill village in the first round, after which Peter Byatt and partner met and defeated John Ward and Ian Pollard in the final of the tennis tournament (6—0, 7—5). In the second round the O.S. team, fortified by tea on the girls' lawn (where it always tastes better), beat Stewart's VI and made ready for the final. This was against Bloxham village, and Peter Byatt and Mike Canning made 73 not out in the allotted five (8-ball) overs, releasing the other four O.S. from further exertions, except as bowlers and fielders, so that they were able to keep Bloxham down to fifty-two runs in all, leaving the O.S. victorious by a handsome margin, and worthy recipients of a handsome Challenge Cup to hold for a year, and equally handsome replicas for each of the team, too, presented by Mrs. Cadd, of the village. Hugh Maw, in an introductory speech, welcomed the visitors from the other villages, as well as the Sibford villagers and, after slyly hinting that though he had no doubt the best team would win, added that School and Old Scholars were delighted to see interesting cricket on the School pitch, and hoped that everyone had enjoyed it, and would come again in even larger numbers next year.

By this time Peter Byatt had "got his eye in," and half-way through the dance he took on Alfred Holland at table tennis—and won. The newspaper competition, however, was won by this column's father, in a close finish with the Secretary (not to be confused with the Secretary's husband's close finish to the Business Meeting). The dance, to a three-piece band, was pronounced a success, though it ended fairly early, and was followed by RS at the E*M., Oldest O.S. present being Arnold Kaye?

At this point this column was in Chelsea and some of its Sources were Jagging through the night to South London whilst it forgot to ask the others. Breakfast, no doubt, was had; goodbyes, doubtless, were said; there may even have been R's at the E. In any case, we were all the better for a thoroughly good time and deeply indebted to the School, its Committee and Head and all the O.S. and others who worked so hard to make it so — not forgetting Pat and Malcolm Rudlin who, in addition to their other labours, acted as a Very Reliable Source for details of Monday's games.

Our President

Having read numerous Old Scholars' magazines, I have admired the many claims to good works and, indeed to fame, which the paragraph on "Our President" has revealed. Now that I am asked for my own paragraph and have searched my past for similar distinctions, I find it sadly lacking!

I think I always wanted to teach, and I can remember at the age of twelve practising on the younger members of my family and their friends. I am surprised they didn't rebel!

There was no 11+ in my young days, so a much-prized "scholarship" to the local grammar school was the only hope of achieving my ambition. I shall never forget the joy of winning that scholarship. A year's student teaching after I left school taught me more about my job than any subsequent training, which I followed after I had taken my degree in English.

When I left the university I taught in a co-educational day grammar school, a variety of subjects—French, Scripture, Music, Latin, but chiefly English. My other interests are photography, music, books, the theatre and play production.

In 1931, a year after the Hill was built, I came to Sibford to take charge of the English and to be responsible for the fifty girls. There were three mistresses only, two of whom remained with me for twenty-eight years. The number of girls and Staff has more than doubled, and the scope and responsibility of my job has grown proportionately. My work at Sibford has given me a wealth of friends especially among Old Scholars whose families and careers are an unending source of interest.

Lionel Geering

Old Scholars learned with deep regret of the death of Lionel Geering on 30th November at his home in Burdrop aged 81.

He had a very deep affection for the School and gave generously of his valuable building knowledge particularly during the early expansion years.

For many years he was a most efficient Treasurer to Old Scholars, representative on the School Committee, and President for the year 1933-34.

He will long be remembered for his travels overseas when he visited many scattered Old Scholars, often going hundreds of miles off his route to include some and being justly called our "Roving Ambassador."

We, who were at School with Margery and Dick, will particularly remember those happy gatherings at Hurstpierpoint when "Pop" Geering and his wife welcomed numerous Old Scholars to their lovely home. We shall sadly miss his cheery greeting at Reunions and the keen interest he took in the School and Old Scholars.

B.T.

Annual General Meeting

Minutes of the Annual General Meeting held at Sibford on 6th August, 1961.

Present: The President and Chairman, John Coxon; Secretary, Lilian Ward; Treasurer, John Taylor; and approximately 80 Old Scholars.

1. The meeting remembered in silence three Old Scholars who had died since our last reunion, Kathleen Rice, Elizabeth Foster Brown and Louisa Gitsham.

2. The Minutes of the last Annual General Meeting held on 17th April, 1960, which were printed in the 1960 Magazine were taken as read, agreed and signed.

3. Arising from the last Minutes, the Chairman reported that the Committee had discussed fully the suggestions made by Reg. life membership subscriptions to be paid during school life, but were unable to recommend that such suggestion should be adopted.

4. John Taylor, as Treasurer, read the auditor's report prepared by Martyn Edwards, and went on to inform the meeting that for the first time for five years the accounts shewed a surplus of £50, this being due to the increased subscriptions.

less than the 1959 magazine, subscriptions in arrears totalled £152.

was proposed by Frederick Carlton Smith and seconded by Michael Rice that the accounts for the year, which had been exhibited in the Archway during the weekend be accepted, and this was agreed.

5. Louis Wright, as one of our representatives on the School Committee reported only briefly as Hugh Maw had earlier given a detailed report of the school year.

mittee met once a month, sometimes more often, and with the School developing there was much to be discussed and settled. He expressed how deeply indebted they were to Fred Gregory, the architect to the Committee, whose work and advice in connection with the new buildings and alterations at the Hill had been invaluable.

thanks of all Old Scholars to John Coxon and Louis Wright for the work they did for the Association on the School Committee.

6. The Chairman then asked for the reports of the Secretaries of the local groups. Jean Moore reported a very full and successful year for London with visits to the houses of Old Scholars, a Christmas party, river trip and forthcoming arrangements included a visit to the Zoo. Michael Finch, for Birmingham, reported that he was endeavouring to arrange activities for this group and he and Patrick Flinn, for Sibford group, hoped to have something to report to the next meeting.

7. Beryl Ryan, as Magazine Editor, reported that one of the main reasons for the delay in the issue of the 1960 magazine was that advertisers had not sent in their material, but she had now received instructions from the Committee that in future all advertisers and contributors to the magazine must be given a date by which material must be in her hands, otherwise it would not be included in the magazine. This year as it was hoped to have the magazine out by 1st January, all material must be with the Editor by the end of September. Thanks were then expressed to Geoff. Moore as advertising manager and to all Old Scholars who advertise in the magazine, and Louis Wright as an advertiser, thanked Old Scholars for their support as a result of his advertisement. The Secretary expressed the thanks of the meeting to the Editor and asked for co-operation of Old Scholars in getting out the 1961 magazine in good time.

8. The Chairman then read greetings telegrams and letters from absent Old Scholars, and informed the meeting that all letters from abroad were now being placed in an album which was to be available with the photograph albums at all Reunions.

9. John Coxon, as Membership Secretary, then reported that of the seventy-two magazines sent out C.O.D., forty-seven had been accepted, nineteen had refused and six had gone away. This method of sending out the magazine meant a tremendous amount of work for him and, in fact, some Old Scholars used this as a method of paying their subscriptions.

10. The Chairman then put to the meeting the suggested amendments to the new Rules as proposed by the Committee, Eric Brown and Peter le Mare and, after discussion, the Rules were accepted and passed by the meeting in the form now appearing in this magazine and were to be immediately applicable.

11. Martin Dodsworth reported on the Mabel Harrod Fund of the concern felt that this fund should be spent in the right direction as Mabel Harrod wished. The Educational Interchange Council had been asked for applications. One applicant had been to France and another had a grant of £10 for cycling in Denmark. Alfred Holland had been asked and had agreed to remain a member of the Committee. There was at present £540 in the fund and applications were wanted.

12. The Secretary then expressed the thanks of Old Scholars to Hugh Maw and the School Staff for their co-operation and help in making our weekend a success and also to the local representatives who fixed the accommodation and did so much before the weekend. Thanks were expressed to Alfred Holland (who had left Sibford since our last Reunion) for the tremendous amount of help he had given to the Association during his term as Bursar at the School. Congratulations were expressed to Rhoda and Frederick Carlton Smith who had recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. The scholars who were leaving had been given a barbecue by Old Scholars after a cricket match had been played by the London group against the School. Finally, all Old Scholars were welcomed and, in particular, those who were with us for the first time and those we had not seen for some time.

13. The Chairman then told the meeting that a memorial to Arthur Johnstone was under consideration by the Committee and suggestions as to the most appropriate form would be welcomed.

14. members under the new Rules and two to replace retiring members. The members appointed were: Alan Roberts, Peter Baily, Alfred Holland, Jean Moore and Vera Brown.

Our new Resident Officer was Arthur Harrison.

15. Whitsun, 1962, and proposed Gladys Burgess as our President for the next year and George Law as Vice-President, both of which appointments were carried unanimously with applause.

ours Secretary reported on the matter raised by Arnold Kaye at the last meeting that the colours we were now using were almost identical with the original colours. David Carlton Smith suggested that a School song should be composed. John Coxon, as President, then proposed that the Association should revive a custom which had been dropped in recent years of giving a gift to the School and he proposed that this year it should take the form of a table lectern and this was unanimously agreed.

Who Led John up the Paddock Path?

At breakfast on Monday morning the Secretary asked for the help of O.S. in clearing up a personal mystery. Lilian said that after the A.G.M. which finished late on Sunday evening, she told John that she must hurry to Penn to see that hot drinks were ready, and they set off together across to the Paddock. Just through the barrier a small group of O.S. were standing, and John stopped to have a word with one of them. Lilian ran on up to Penn. Some little time later John came in to the kitchen there, looking a little confused but otherwise quite normal. He asked Lilian what had happened to her in the Paddock, to which, of course, she replied, "Nothing," and no more was said. As Lilian and John went down the paddock later to go to bed John told her what had happened to him in the Paddock. Lilian says "It appears that after a short talk with one of the O.S. standing in the Paddock, John said "Lilian wants to hurry up to Penn, so we must go. See you later." Then putting his arm around me, the usual custom you will remember for the Paddock, began to walk up to Penn. In silence "we" walked to the foot of the steps, when John apparently became aware that "I" was wearing a plastic mac, and said, "You must be warm in that," to which "I" replied, "Not too warm." This next part of the tale I find hard to believe. John says that on realising that the voice was not mine, he realised his mistake and panicked and leaving the unknown lady in the plastic mac at the steps ran for his life back to the barrier to find me.

I should dearly like to know the identity of the silent walker in the plastic mac!"

1962 Reunion

Tradition

Why am I here?

Why are you here?

It might be unwise for me to suggest why you are here, but as far as I am concerned I could say it is because you gave me a stiff sentence!—16 months without an option! Seriously, I am here because our First President, Joseph Spence Hodgson, gave an Address at Whitsuntide, 1904, and since then some fifty-two other Presidents have followed suit and have so established a Tradition.

I would like to follow Tradition by expressing my sincere appreciation of the honour of being made your President. I have tried, over the sixteen months of my year to be Present if not to Preside at as many functions as possible. I see that in 1914 Lucy Lamb claimed distinction as the first Grandmother President. I obviously cannot make that claim, but I take special pleasure in being the first Johnstonian President — I am happy to see that Jessie Johnstone is with us this evening.

Presidents always claim that this Address is unpleasant and colours the whole of their year. Perhaps—with our change of rules—we could have the address at the beginning of the year of office and not at the end. This is done by Sidcot who give their Presidents a year's warning by making them Vice-Presidents the year before.

Having to give such an Address does give one a grand excuse to browse through old magazines and to learn something of the early days of the Association. It also gives one an opportunity to say things—or have them read — to a wider audience and thus gain a greater impact than if said privately or in Committee.

Tradition is the subject of my remarks this evening. I want to talk about traditions—both live and dead—mainly of the Association, but also of the School.

Let us first be clear on the meaning of the word Tradition.

The Shorter Oxford Dictionary — why shorter I'd like to know — defines tradition as—

“That which is handed down. A statement, belief or practice transmitted especially orally from generation to generation. A long established and generally accepted custom or method of procedure having almost the force of law.”

This cannot be confused with habit which is more personal and is defined as “Tendency to act in a certain way especially one acquired by frequent repetition of the same act!”

We can all think of the traditions of the Association that continue — our whole Reunion programme is largely traditional. The 1904 and 1905 Reunion Programmes were not so very different to that of this weekend. The cricket match may have been on the Monday, but it was there. The picnics, the choral or singing, the entertainments were all in the Programme. Rockets of course, came later, but surely can now be considered one of our firmest traditions.

Incidentally, I see on looking through the early Reports that the Committee was apologising for the lateness of the Report. As your current Committee is doing the same, we must see that this does not become a firm tradition!

Here are some of the things I would like to see brought back.

I believe the most important is the holding of our Reunions at Whitsuntide or at least in term time. We started with Whitsuntide and did not experiment with Easter until 1922 and not again until 1950. The first August Reunion was in 1944. The early Reunions were always at the invitation of the School Committee and not by permission of as now.

In April, 1914, Wilfred E. Littleboy, who is still on the School Committee, wrote to us:—

Sibford School Committee.

8th April, 1914.

“As Whitsuntide is now almost within sight, I am writing to you to convey the usual invitation from the above Committee to the Sibford Old Scholars' Association to hold their Annual gathering at the School.

The Committee is glad to hear from time to time of the progress of your Association and hopes that the meeting this year may be in every way as successful as those on previous occasions.”

I hope we shall all work so that the School Committee will again invite us to hold regular Whitsuntide Reunions.

Old Scholars must realise that the Parent - Teacher Association, which started in 1935, runs a Parents' Weekend each term which provides much that was once only provided by the O.S. Reunion — which in my time was certainly the main event of the School year.

We are all most grateful to the support given us by Hugh Maw and Gladys Burgess because it is certain that without it we should not be meeting at Whitsuntide in 1962.

Of course the problems of a Reunion during term time are themselves traditional.

The 1911 Report comments:—

“Mr. and Mrs. Harrod were, however, very hard worked by reason of the School Examinations, and the nearness of General Meeting. But it did not damp their ardour.”

And yet the School managed with Reunion members equalling or exceeding the number of pupils—the difficulties of feeding and accommodation in 1909 with eighty O.S. and about the same number of pupils, (the total did not reach 100 until 1912) or in 1935 with 130 O.S. and the same number in the School cannot have been easier than now when we have some 250 in the School and perhaps 100 O.S. Much lies on the willingness of individuals to overcome the difficulties. The School Staff undoubtedly have to put up with some disturbance and dislocation of their routines during a term-time Reunion. Unfortunately, many of the present Staff know little or nothing of our Association and have never experienced a Whitsuntide Reunion. What fearsome rumours they must hear — from barbaric rites at Cross Roads — to invasions of Kitchens for cups of tea in the early hours.

During next Whitsuntide and in the interval until then, it is up to all of us to convince them of the importance of our Association to the School and of present Scholars getting to know us, our beliefs and practices and our traditions.

Did you know that:

The Mount, Bootham, Ayton and Saffron Walden all meet at Whitsuntide, Wigton at August and Sidcot and Ackworth at Easter. Leighton Park, who used to meet after the end of the Summer Term, have broken a tradition and now meet on a Saturday early in July.

Another Tradition that passed years ago and is missed by many of us here is the use of the Manor House as the focal point for the Reunion and the welcome on its steps by the Headmaster and his wife. The move of part of the School to the Hill is one reason, I suppose. If the School Committee had been able to look fifty years ahead and build a road not from the Paddock but from the Hook Norton Road, this tradition might not have died. But I think that the real reason was the advent of the private motor car. As long as Old Scholars arrived by horse and wagon or even by motor omnibus from Banbury they arrived in a body and could be met. Now, of course, we are welcomed by the Headmaster individually.

Perhaps, as the School moves more to the Hill with a better Reception Hall, this tradition may in part revive.

The Association has made many large and generous gifts to the School, the outstanding example being the James Harrod Memorial Pavilion, but I believe that we, as an Association, do not do enough in the way of small gifts. Here the Parent-Teacher Association does much to help with such gifts as games for the Common Room, Table Tennis equipment, Tennis netting, etc., etc. I would like to see revived the traditional Presidential Gift. And I do not mean by this the personal gifts given by some Presidents and, of course, many other Old Scholars which quite rightly remain anonymous.

According to the early Minutes, the Association voted a sum of money, which was often not recorded, with which the President purchased a gift to give to the School on behalf of the Association. For many years this was a picture, but I am sure there are many other things, such as books, films, records, games equipment which the School would like and which we could provide year by year.

I don't know the position in the other Friends' Schools, but Sibford appears to have little tradition of families having pupils at the School generation by generation. Only a tenth of the present scholars are children of Old Scholars—some twenty-five out of 250. It does not seem many and yet I see from the 1960 issue of the Saffron Walden Old Scholars' Report that out of some 135 children in the Senior School only six are children of Old Scholars.

Did not Sibford provide us with a satisfactory education or is it that we want something different for our children. Old Scholars are a group from which many future pupils must come if the School is to succeed and it is surely up to the School to provide the education required to build up amongst Old Scholars the tradition of Sibford being the family School.

I thought it might be interesting to have a look at the traditions of the Old Scholars' Associations of the other eight Quaker Schools. I am very grateful for all the information I have received from the various Secretaries, much of which will, I am sure, give ideas to our Committee.

I made the mistake of using the initials S.O.S.A. — as I often do — when writing to Sidcot who, as they are thirty years older than we are, claim the initials as their own!

I have already mentioned the dates of the various Reunions, but the programmes themselves have developed on similar lines. (The various Presidents remarks on having to give an Address could be taken from any of the Reports.)

The Mount, who hold a joint Reunion with Bootham at Whitsuntide, have two dances rather than entertainments to the School, but make a special feature of a Sunday Evening Reading, followed by Supper with the Headmistress. Traditionally, they give a prize for the School Tennis Tournament and for Arts and Crafts. In addition, they award two travel grants to the Branches of the Association to help Old Scholars to come to Reunion. This, I feel, is an excellent idea and one I hope we can adopt in some way or other.

In the case of Sidcot, I learn that two traditions have just died — one being Playground hockey, as being too dangerous, shades of Playground cricket at our Reunions, and the walk up Sidcot Hill by torchlight as being too arduous. This, for some reason, has been replaced by soup in the Headmaster's kitchen. Also, at Sidcot, the President is host at a tea party and has to shake hands with everyone—they work their Presidents hard!

In general, both Wigton and Ayton seem to have built up a traditional Programme, very similar to ours. Wigton comment on the falling off of members attending their Whit Reunions.

Ackworth include in their programme an item—"The School Year." This being the showing of slides of activities during the previous year. We are now doing something very similar and I hope it will become a traditional feature of our Programmes. I see Ackworth still manage to include an Old Scholars Cross Country Run—they must be tougher up North!

Leighton Park seem to be the only School without an Old Scholars' Magazine—I have a suspicion that both our Editor and Membership Secretary would look kindly on this idea. Old Leightonians have a section in the School Magazine. As I said earlier, their Reunion has changed and is now based mostly on a Saturday in term-time. The School provides two meals and a retired Master arranges accommodation, so there is little organising for the Old Scholars to do.

Saffron Walden continue their traditional programme at Whitsuntide, but they do have their Annual General Meeting separately in November in London. Even here traditions get broken — they always used to visit the garden of a local Friend on Whit-Sunday, but can now no longer do so. Just as we used to visit local gardens here — I remember very well both Miss Thames and the Iles.

The motor car has caused changes at Saffron — the Monday night bonfire with which they always ended the weekend is no longer part of the programme because many Old Scholars have already departed by car.

Many of you know that we have, for the last three years, entertained the leavers at the end of the Summer term. This started as a Sibford Branch idea, but has now become an official S.O.S.A. item, although we are very grateful to the local Old Scholars who do all the donkey work. I hope this idea will develop and become a traditional part of our year.

It was interesting to see how many of the other Associations have developed similar ideas.

Wigton do not yet go so far, but send each leaver a statement of the principles and activities of the Association and follow this by a talk by a Member of the Executive. Ayton holds an Annual Leavers Supper on the last Sunday of term which is attended by O.S. Officials.

Saffron Walden Old Scholars, with the help of the School, give a Leavers' Party in the Summer. The President is host, supported by twelve Old Scholars, whom he or she has invited.

Ackworth do not hold a Leavers' Party, but their Local Guild (Branch) arrange games and tea for Scholars whose parents are unable to visit frequently. This reminds me of the visits of Dr. Sanger and the Warwickshire Monthly Meeting Car.

Two traditions we have let slide—wrongly, I'm sure, are—firstly, the Group Photograph. This must give pleasure to the large number of Old Scholars who rarely return to Reunions, and secondly—the entertainments. This has happened because we do not meet in term-time and has almost given our branches an excuse not to exist. Many of the other Associations manage to keep one, if not two, Concerts, etc., as part of their programmes and from reading their Reports, these seem to flourish.

Almost all the other Associations hold a Secondary Reunion in the Autumn or Spring when the Old Scholars play the School at Association or Rugby football and Hockey and finish the day, either by giving a Concert to the School, or by holding a dance with the School.

Sidcot make their second visit at Whitsuntide for cricket and tennis. Saffron Walden's visit in October ends by watching the School Play. Sibford have tended to leave these visits to the London and Birmingham branches and for many years they were most successful, often including some entertainment for the School. Lack of encouragement by the School in the difficult post-war years, had much to do with the visits getting fewer and the Concerts not being given. I am certain that this lack of continuity had a very bad effect on our branches. I would like to see an Autumn or Spring visit made part of the S.O.S.A. calendar and organised by the Association with the help of the branches, of course.

Having finished my term of office as Secretary and now as President, I feel safe in making all these suggestions, though I may not be so popular with our current Secretary.

Saffron Walden have developed a tradition of a Lecture Weekend in March each year.

Some of the recent subjects have been:—

1961: Man's Responsibility for the Living World.

1960: The Individual in Society.

1959: A Chance to Help.

1958: The City of London.

1956: The National Press.

The lecturers include many well-known names and are obvious experts on their subjects.

It has been suggested that we should include something on these lines in our weekend programme, but many of us are not sure how it would fit in.

Saffron Walden, by having a separate weekend, have solved this problem.

Perhaps, if there is support for a serious lecture or lectures, we could include it with a visit for games in the Autumn or Spring. I'm sure our Committee will give some thought to this.

Time is short and I have said little about the School.

Some of the minor traditions I am sorry to see go are the Sunday afternoon Pig-Drive — we learnt much from these walks — not only to know and love the local countryside, but also a sense of country discipline.

The whole-day organised picnics to Edge Hill and Whichford seem to have stopped. I believe some of the younger Old Scholars have never been to Whichford Woods—they don't know what they missed! I see that in the early days the girls went to Whichford and the boys to Rollright—both in the same direction, you notice!

Blackberry afternoons went on from the early 1900's until last year. I see that even in 1911 they picked 180 lb. How much more was eaten?

Perhaps the Master reading in the boys' dormitories will return with the use of the boys' Houses.

In times of change, such as the School is now going through, it is important to maintain the good traditions from the past and build new ones for the future. We look around and see all the alterations and wonderful new buildings and these are, of course, important, but I believe that the one- or two-year sixth form course will have a greater effect on the School in the future than all the new buildings. National statistics show that children are already maturing some two years earlier than in my day. Having this older and more mature group at the top of the School will bring great benefits but also, of course, some problems for the Staff (I hope we shall be able to tell them from the pupils).

Until recently the Manor House has been traditionally the centre of the School. With the administration moving to the Hill and all the rebuilding, the Manor House has become something of a backwater. I'm glad that the Staff and Committee use it as an entrance—we have on occasions had our coffee in the Hall and the Housekeeper's room.

Let us hope that in the long term plans for the School the Manor House is retained and brought more into the life of the School. In many ways I would like to see it become a family house again. Perhaps as a Girls' House or, better still, if the girls' dining room, etc., are moved to other buildings, to become again the home of the Headmaster. It is inevitable that many of the traditions disappear as times and Staff change and the School expands, but we hope that some of the Old is retained to help link the generations together. I want to end with a quotation from Agatha Christie's novel, "Cat among the Pigeons," where the Headmistress of a very select girls boarding school says:—

"You can't hold on to the past, a certain amount of tradition is good, but never too much. A School is for the children of today. It is not for the children of fifty years ago or even thirty years ago. It is a school that tries to make the best of both worlds: the past and the future, but the real stress is on the present. That's how it's going to go on, how it ought to go on. Keeping what is wise from the past, looking forward towards the future."

Under the Two Elms

London Branch

We started the year with the Christmas Party and A.G.M. at Campbell Hall on Saturday, 7th January, this was attended by about thirty London O.S. who played games, solved puzzles or just chatted. A week later Sibford was fairly well represented by about thirty of us at the Inter-Schools' Dance at Victoria Hall.

We then had two "at homes." Our first in mid-April at the home of Eric and Gulie Grimes at St. Albans where, after a picnic lunch, they were shown over the Abbey and Verulamium by Eric and Christopher. The weather was not very good but despite that, it was all very much enjoyed. In early May we were welcomed, once again, by John and Lilian Ward at their home at West Wickham, and during the evening listened to records, looked at colour transparencies and played miniature table tennis.

On 28th May, with the help of Louis Wright, we hired a motor launch for a day trip up the Thames. It was a rather cold and wet day but about forty London O.S., plus their friends and relatives, enjoyed the trip from Hampton Court to Runnymede and back, stopping for picnic lunch at Chertsey, and then tea at the Packhorse Hotel at Staines. Forty of us met at Jordans for the annual cricket match there on Sunday, 25th June. It was a lovely day and, after a picnic lunch on the Ryans' lawn, we were thoroughly beaten by the Jordan's team (scores Jordans 148, O.S. 55). Afterwards we had tea at the Village Hall and many gathered later at the Ryans for a buffet supper.

Early in July a number of London O.S. went down to Sibford to play cricket against the School, we won. O.S. scored 98, the School scored 76 (Michael Van Blankenstein made 32, Busby took 5 wickets for 29 runs and Don Ryan took 6 wickets for 17 runs including the "hat trick." For the School, Hooper and Hugh Maw scored 27 and 26 respectively). After tea, given by the School, many joined in the barbecue given for the leavers.

On Sunday, 3rd September, twelve adults and three children visited the London Zoo, some travelled there through part of London by water bus. Although the party was so small this event was much enjoyed, especially by the children.

We were glad to see Frank and Jackie Rollett and John and Irene Coxon at Jordans, and appreciated the presence of our President at the Christmas Party, too.

There are still two more events in 1961. One is a hockey match in early October against the School and the other is a "record party" at the home of John and Daphne Canham in November. The next Christmas Party will be a very special event as it will be our 50th anniversary.

Our membership is still about eighty London O.S.

JEAN MOORE.

Birmingham Branch

We are glad to say that we are beginning activities again.

Our first meeting at Frank and Vera Rollett's was well attended and enjoyed by all. Further meetings are being arranged and we hope they will be as well received as the first.

Old Scholars Abroad

From Herbert Calcraft. The Annual Report was very welcome, as usual, but—more pictures, please, including some of the New School which I, and many like me, have not seen.

I am retired but not living a life of leisure. There always seems to be plenty to do. The house was long since completed and, in fact, has just received its first repainting, but I still have a boat-house to build when I find the time—and the funds.

Please give my best wishes to all Old Scholars.

Editor's Note.—Re, first paragraph. I regret that there are even less photographs this year. Amateur cameramen, it is up to you!

From Harold Brown. At the moment I am Principal of the Protestant Separate School in Penetanguishene, Ontario.

This town is a beautiful spot which often reminds me of Sibford because of its steep hills and valleys, and its green grass and trees. So much of Canada is flatish, rocky and covered with pine forest and most agricultural areas are boring with their similarity.

Penetanguishene is on a small bay leading off Georgian Bay off the Lake Huron, about 90 miles north of Toronto.

This is mainly a French-Canadian community and, therefore, mostly Catholic, that is why the Protestants here are the Separate School and not the Public School as the vice-versa arrangement in most parts of Ontario.

Education is very slow here in spite of big talk. Philip did two Grades in one year, so he is not far behind English schools in arithmetic and English.

From Margaret Smith. I have been trying to organise an outing to the Stratford (Ontario) Shakespeare Festival, for Old Scholars of all the English Friends' Schools in the area, of whom there are quite a number. About twenty expressed interest, but so far only two have bought tickets. I shall have to do a bit of telephone soliciting from those in Toronto, I think. It would be a pity if it was a complete flop, when I have finally succeeded in making contact with about forty or fifty miscellaneous Old Scholars.

From Juliette Lower. Many thanks for your Sibford Old Scholars' Magazine which gave my husband much pleasure and many hours of enjoyment, also brought back many happy memories, which we loved to talk about. However, I regret to have to tell you that Arthur passed away to a better life on 8th February, 1960, since when I have felt very lost, as we had so much in common, but I am happy now to think God took him "home" first, as I cannot imagine his being left alone, and I hope it will not be long until I rejoin him.

From Molly Vine. I wish I were 3,000 miles from here in a westerly direction, then maybe I could attend the 1961 gathering of the S.O.S.A. The Reunion, I am sure, will be the highlight of the year for so many who look forward to meeting old friends in the peaceful green countryside of Zib. Oh! for some of that air! If you want brilliant blue skies, scorching sun, temperatures of 114°-120°, with humidity 50.90%, spend the weekend here!

Elizabeth (youngest daughter—usually known as one of the Rann family) arrived last Wednesday on what is commonly known as the "Lollypop Special"—it's the B.O.A.C. Comet entirely filled by children coming out for holidays. They all said when we met them at the airport that it was like stepping out of a fridge into an oven. Had they known what a Turkish bath was like it would have been nearer the mark! I must say this past week has been bad. The Iranian papers and the local inhabitants say that the weather conditions have been the worst experienced in the last forty years!

One would not realise that this barren island, so important in this political age, is within thirty miles of what once used to be the Garden of Eden, and eighty miles of Solomon's Temple. I have been very fortunate in being able to visit these places and many others. Amongst them Istanbul stands out in my mind as a city of ancient and modern history. I could spend yet another holiday visiting the "Old City," Museums, Mosques and Bazaars, one seems to step back into the past. Athens, soaked in its ancient history, Delphi, Rhodes, Lindos, where you look down to St. Peter's Port, a most beautiful bay, The Temple of Limos, Valley of Butterflies, Rome, Naples, Florence, Madrid, etc.—so many memories, so many experiences to be treasured. Little did I think when reading Piers Ploughman at Sibford in the "late 20's" that I would see so much of the world. I am a very fortunate person, I realise and appreciate it, but there is still no place like England. We hope to be home for good next year after twenty-five years abroad, so maybe next year we will be at the Reunion.

From Patricia Parsons. My sister, Marigold, got married in March this year out in Kingston, Jamaica, and is making her home out there. She moved to Jamaica from the United States to take up a post in the University College Hospital just outside Kingston. There she met her husband, Carol Thorburn. I was lucky enough to spend a month in Jamaica to attend Marigold's wedding and I must say she has chosen a truly beautiful island to make her home—it was a wonderful experience for me to visit this lush, colourful paradise. I was not the only Sibfordian present, Sandra Roberts, a contemporary of mine, came out, too, and we had some tremendous fun together. I gave up my job as a dispenser with Boots the Chemists some eighteen months ago and did a secretarial course and I am now working at the B.B.C. in Birmingham in the Sports department. I enjoy the work very much and have no regrets in changing my career.

Jottings from the Headmaster's Notebook

STEPHEN WALL, a former editor of the Old Scholars' Magazine while at Oxford, is now on the Staff of Mansfield College and is running a course of evening classes at Hook Norton on the subject of English Literature.

NORAH GRIFFIN has passed Art at 'A' level and will be taking up a course in Advertising Art at the Berkshire College of Art. She now has a brother at Sibford.

ANDREW PRYDE has passed five 'O' level subjects at the second attempt at the Grammar School, Twickenham, and is now in the VIth Form taking 'A' levels in economics, history and geography.

HAZEL MACNEE, having passed her secretarial exams., worked extremely hard as a waitress in a local cafe at Paignton before taking up a new job in London as a saleswoman at Bourne & Hollingsworth's under their Trainee Scheme.

CLARE DARVILL, after a holiday in Copenhagen where she met MIKE DAVIES, started her physiotherapy course at the Woodlands Orthopaedic Hospital, Birmingham, after two successful years at Chipping Campden Grammar School.

CASILDA STONE is thoroughly enjoying working with the Mechanical Copyright Protection Society which deals with the copyright of music in radio, television and films, and issues licences. She has also had two months in France, a holiday in the Bavarian Alps, and was very fortunate to escape unhurt from a very serious car accident last February. She has heard from ANN MCCALLUM, enjoying her work at St. Mary's Hospital, and met ANNA RISSIK who, having completed two years in the VIth at the Friends School, Great Ayton, will be starting at the Lady Mabel College of Physical Education.

PAT FARMER sent news of a wonderful trip to Kenya on two weeks' leave from Aden. He enjoyed visiting the School whilst on leave in this country in January with MICHAEL SLAY who has been taking N.D.A. exams. and is now a Member of the Royal Agricultural College.

JAMES SHEEHAN at Saffron Walden, doing 'A' levels in the VIth Form, has broken records in the half mile, mile and two miles. He has gained entry to Camborne College for mining engineers.

JACK HANDLEY is at Aylesbury Grammar School and his brother, David, came second in his pre-Technical Course, passing in six subjects. He hopes to get into an Agricultural Machinery firm.

F. P. THOMSON, Head Boy, 1931-32, and winner of the Merten's International Essay Prize in 1931, is now Editor of "English Illustrated" and was televised putting a question to Major Gagarin at his Press Conference at Earls Court in July.

SUSAN GEE, at Manchester University, reading for a B.Sc., is active with Manchester Young Friends who have held a Work Camp for the Family Service Unit. She met DAVID SMITH and DAVID COX on the Aldermaston march at Easter. She hopes to take up teaching.

CHRISTINE MATCHETT, very much involved in local C.N.D. activities, met SUSAN WILLIAMS (Banbury Grammar School) and DIANA GRIMES (St. Albans Grammar School) and JENNIFER BLOW on the Wethersfield March. She belongs to the International Club in Norwich, and is enjoying College life.

HEINZ TOMASICH, Vienna, is now Head Boy of the most modern High School in Austria. He has been skiing in Carinthia during the holidays.

GRAHAM MADDERS after completing a nine months training course in Ordnance Survey at Southampton has spent eight months surveying the Yorkshire countryside round Wakefield, before moving on to the Pontefract area. He also managed to fit in the Aldermaston march and a visit to the School.

IAN HALL is enjoying his work at Bristol Siddeley Engines Ltd., and hopes to become a draughtsman after his five year apprenticeship.

DICK and HAZEL NEAL, farming near Brailles, allowed Old Scholars to entertain the leavers to a Barbecue on their land, organised by PAT FLINN with the help of ROSAMUND and PHILLIP MORRIS, now teaching in Coventry.

JOTTINGS FROM THE HEADMASTER'S NOTEBOOK

JOHN BARRETT is a Life Saver at the local swimming bath. He is learning to be a Tailor and Cutter in the West End.

ANNE POVELL passed English and Arithmetic in the Scottish Leaving Certificate and hopes to train for Occupational Therapy. Her brother, CHRISTOPHER, has also done extremely well in his exams. The Academy have been putting on "Trial by Jury" so they have enjoyed comparing productions. Anne attended Junior Yearly Meeting and met other Old Scholars.

MICHAEL COLLINS has been doing his 'A' levels at the Bournville Grammar Technical School where his father is a Crafts Master, and has gained entry to Shore-ditch Training College for a Craft Teacher's course, following his father in good Sibford tradition.

YVOR SCOTT has left the Friends' School, Wigton, and started his job with the Forestry Commission at Moreton-in-the-Marsh. Returning home from School by train he and two others were beaten up by a gang of hooligans on the train and had to receive medical treatment at Birmingham.

GLYNN BERRINGTON and TIM FOORD at the Pressed Steel Company, Oxford, were very helpful and interesting showing a party of Vth Form boys round the factory, where they saw the new "hush hush" Ford and Hillman models.

ANDREW LOMAX wrote a most interesting letter vividly describing his work with the Northern Rhodesian Police in the copper belt. He finds time to help teach in a Sunday School with an American Missionary at the Ndola Free Church. He has helped to start a Choral and Sunday Evening service for teenagers along Sibford lines.

PAUL EDDINGTON, frequently seen on television and in live plays and films, has visited the School twice recently. He stays with MIKE CANNING who has had another successful cricket season locally.

DAVID ROAF has been accepted at the Harper Adams Agricultural College where he hopes to take his N.D.A. He has been doing his student year on a big farm near Oswestry.

BETTY HICKS started nursing at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Birmingham in January. She is now Mrs. Stanley, having got married in September.

SHELAGH KINNISH is finishing her teacher training at Bletchley Park and is to be married at Easter to Bob Greenland who works for I.T.V.

SUSAN KINNISH, at Banbury Grammar School, has been accepted for training at University College Hospital.

MARION COX, having spent a year helping Daphne Maw at Holly House whilst taking further 'O' levels, is now training strenuously at the National Children's Home, Ebley, near Stroud.

The School Year

We have now had a year of experience with two of the new boys' Houses, Penn and Nansen. After a year's wear and tear they are in beautiful condition — almost as good as new, and the boys are extremely proud of them. Already this has produced a very different atmosphere in the School—better discipline, a new look amongst the boys, and certainly in the surroundings into which the Houses fit so well.

Now the third House I hoped and planned for has been completed—only just in time for the September term. Martin Dodsworth, an Old Scholar, and Dorothy and their family, have moved into Lister with forty boys, and now each House has a single resident assistant Housemaster. In Lister there are a few small additions, adaptations and improvements incorporated from lessons learned from Penn and Nansen. New boys now go straight into their Houses instead of having a year at Holmby House, which has been sold.

All the building changes and additions looked forward to in my last report are now nearing completion. The girls' dormitories at the Old School have been redecorated to gay I.C.I. colour schemes, and are being re-equipped with more and better fitted furniture.

After the Old Scholars' Gathering a new filter, chlorination and boiler plant were added to the swimming bath. The water is now clean and warm, and we look forward to swimming all the year round.

We have made a start with a small VIth form of eight girls and four boys. They have a joint VIth form teaching room with television and separate study rooms with their own desk units. We are starting with a one-year general Post-Certificate Course in a variety of subjects and with an opportunity to take some extra "O" level subjects, or some subjects again. With a system of Prefects and Sub-Prefects now the School will greatly benefit from having these older children who themselves will also benefit from the extra year of maturity. We hope they will also help to raise the standards of work and responsibility throughout the School.

The old girls' changing rooms have been scrapped completely and are being adapted into a new Music School with practice rooms. Entirely new girls' changing rooms, with showers, are being added on to the existing boys' changing rooms and to the gym. New boys' changing rooms are being added to the re-designed and equipped old ones. Better drying facilities and new cloakrooms are also being provided at the Hill for both boys and girls. There is a new chair store and a new gym. store at the back of the Hall with a projector operator's box above it. The front hall at the Hill has also been adapted and redecorated, mainly by Arthur Harrison, an Old Scholar. This, with all the redecorations, will give a much more impressive and cheerful welcome to our many visitors.

During the year the new pottery room upstairs at the Hill next to the new Art Studio was equipped and pottery and modelling was restarted as a hobby activity, to the delight and enthusiasm of Staff and children alike.

New gym. equipment was given to the School, including a trampoline. Besides being a wise and subtle investment (to save bedsprings) its recreational and training value has been well appreciated.

The first year of Metalwork proved a great success, and prizes were won by girls at the Banbury Arts and Crafts Festival for the first time. The standard of woodwork and design also continues to improve. Another new feature at General Meeting was a dress parade by the girls, which was so successful that it had to be repeated. Music flourished, and under Clive Penman's guiding hand, and with co-operation from Staff and village, several very successful performances of Benjamin Britten's "Noyes Fludde" were staged.

The G.C.E. results showed some improvements, the tendency being to be entered for fewer subjects and passing a higher percentage.

Sport has flourished with improved standards, particularly in swimming and athletics. Jane Clark represented the School in the County Girls Hockey XI. There is also a great increase in interest in expeditions and camping. It is still my great hope to get at least two hard tennis courts for the School. This would be a great benefit to both boys and girls and Staff. The two good grass courts get too heavy use and, in consequence, they become worn and do not improve the standard of this increasingly popular and important mixed game.

We are making every effort to maintain some old traditions such as blackberrying, picnics, Hallowe'en parties, expeditions, 5th November celebrations and Sunday "pig-drives" for the new children. Old Scholars have helped with these and with expeditions and barbecues for the leavers, so that it does appear as if more younger Old Scholars are now joining the Association and are anxious to come back to play their part in organisation as well as to satisfy their curiosity about all the changes.

With, perhaps, the mildest winter within living memory, the health of the School has been excellent, and with no epidemics. Numbers in the School have risen from 232 to 260.

The School having employed the services of County Caterers to take over the catering for a year have now changed to the Midland Catering Company with excellent results.

Another changing feature is not only the earlier maturity of the children, but also the extraordinary variety amongst the sixty new children coming into the School each year, particularly in height and weight. Amongst 11-year-olds there are some with the average height of nine-year-olds at one extreme, to those nearing six feet and the average height of adults or at least of the leavers! This raises new problems, particularly with the sizes of beds! Other problems are again the physical limitations of the old buildings—the dining room crammed to overflowing, and the Hall already too small.

The School badly needs now a breathing space and a time to settle down to steady ordered routine and study, but we must still look ahead to the provision of girls' Houses, and the future of the Old Manor House. I would also like to see Rural Science added to the curriculum, and commercial subjects, particularly typing for girls. We are building up a very strong and able Staff with a high proportion of Friends and Old Scholars, and I cannot let this opportunity go by without recording the fact that Gladys Burgess has now completed thirty years of outstanding service to the School. The number of Friend children remains higher than most of the Friends' Schools and it is my hope that we are more than maintaining our reputation as a friendly School in both senses and all its implications.

H.M.

School Committee

Expanding Sibford, what a change we saw when we turned up for Reunion at August; the third House nearly completed, work progressing on the new cloakrooms and changing rooms at the Hill, filter plant going in for the swimming bath, decorations in the girls' dormitories, in fact, a mass of workmen all over the place. When I went down for G.P. Committee in the middle of September Lister House was occupied by boys, the dining room bulging at the seams, and still a mass of workmen everywhere. The boys' cloakrooms already taking shape and looking very palatial. Now there is talk of extending the dining room to enable all the children to get in. Oh, I had quite forgotten the new Sixth Form teaching room and Sixth Form private study room. Sibford is indeed expanding, soon the girls' old changing rooms will be a Music Block. I have heard a whisper that there may be hard courts, let us hope so.

Now O.S., we have always been appealing for money in the past, this time I am appealing to you to write to me and give me any name and address of any O.S. whom you know is not a member of the S.O.S.A. We are particularly anxious to trace, if possible, everyone who is alive today and has been to Sibford. Will you help? Why not make a target of ten for every member to trace and let me know. In this way we can increase our membership and double the interest in the School, and do not forget to say to any O.S. you meet, "Have you been to Sibford lately? If not, do go and see the changes that have taken place, Hugh Maw or Leslie Tucker will make you very welcome."

Roger Clark

He was a member of the Sibford Committee for over fifty years, coming up regularly from his home in Street to attend the Committees and even now this is not an easy journey. He was always available for advice and very wise counsel. A good many children came to Sibford from Somerset. He always knew them and took a personal interest in them. He realised clearly the place that Sibford could take in the educational work in the Society of Friends and was very anxious that this should be fostered in every way. He and his family had been very generous towards the School and their name is remembered in the Clark Dining Room. Many of those outside the School Committee circles will remember his yearly reports to Bristol and Somerset Quarterly Meeting on the School's progress. They were full of his care for the School and showed his gentle humour. In this way and through his work on the Friends' Education Council he kept the needs of the School continually before Friends. He resigned from the Committee only four years ago.

Mabel Harrod Bursary Fund

Some thought continues to be given to the original aims by the Trustees of this fund, i.e., "to help children . . . to come from Central Europe and share the friendship and benefits of education at Sibford School."

There are many difficulties involved but at present it seems that the key may well lie with the Educational Interchange Council who are keen to help us in this matter. We should be able to give more positive news in the next report.

In the past year two applications have been received for grants from the fund; one from Josephine Cox, who was unable to make use of a previous grant. She received £10 from the fund and spent some time at Easter with a family in France. As a consequence of this she has given hospitality to two French girls this Summer.

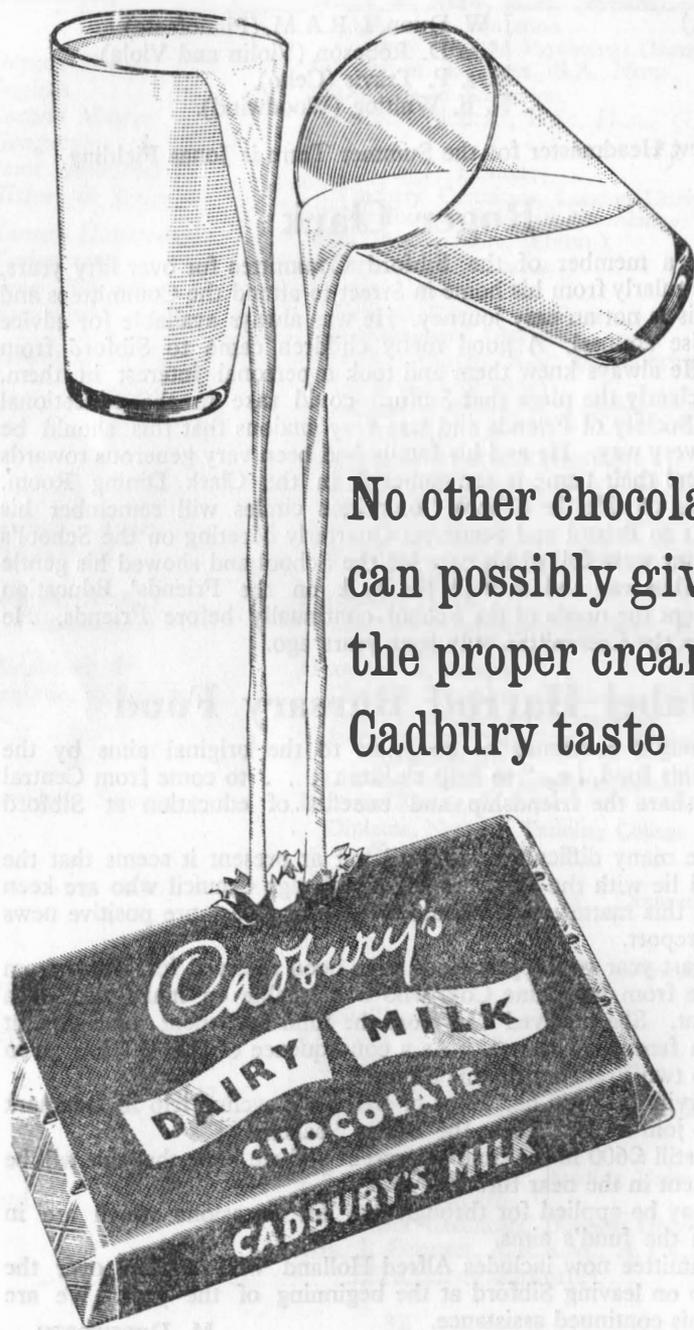

Clare Darvill has used her grant of £10 for a cycling trip in Denmark and hopes to join in the "Meet the Danes" scheme.

There is still £600 in the fund at present and we hope that this will be effectively spent in the near future.

Grants may be applied for through me for occasions which are in keeping with the fund's aims.

The Committee now includes Alfred Holland who handed over the Secretaryship on leaving Sibford at the beginning of the year. We are grateful for his continued assistance.

There are possibly a large number of Old Scholars who are unaware of the above Annual Dance for Old Scholars of all the Friends' Schools. Held in London in January of each year, the Dance is arranged by a Committee of representatives appointed by each Old Scholars' Association, or their London Group. Notice of the Dance appears in O.S. magazines, "The Friend," and London Group circulars, and though our magazine, owing to its date of publication, has been unable to give notice of the Dance in recent years, the London Group circularises a large area around London. It has always been the aim of the Committee to provide a pleasant central hall, and a good band, at a reasonable charge, to encourage a good attendance. Despite this, however, there has been a sharp decline in numbers attending the Dance over the last six years, from 320 in 1957; 239 in 1959; 195 in 1961; down to 136 at the 1962 Dance in January, which incurred a loss of £13. The last four Dances have been run at a loss, and were only made possible by profits from earlier Dances, and the balance has now been reduced to £15.

Though the reduction in numbers may be just a phase, the Committee are concerned at the future of the Dance especially as two Schools appear to have lost interest completely. Attendance at the next Dance may well decide whether there is enough support to hold the Dance annually, or perhaps alternate years. The Committee are considering altering the date to October, for a Hallowe'en Dance, together with a smaller and less expensive hall and band. Sibford is, however, well represented, but your continued support is still needed if you wish this to be an annual event. As your representative I would welcome your suggestions and inquiries.
